

MAKING HISTORY is the Saline county clerk's office where ballots for the primary election next Tuesday are shown being stamped with the signature of the new county clerk, J. E. Rose. The ballots were printed with the facsimile of the signature of Don B. Garrison, deceased, and it was ruled that all the ballots must be stamped with Mr. Rose's signature. Six stamps are available to stamp 43,000 ballots, which include school as well as party ballots. This is probably the first time such an action has taken place in a county-wide election in Saline county, maybe in all of southern Illinois. Shown back of the counter left to right are County Clerk Rose, Ewell Winkelman, Edythe Parker and Shirley Shain, and in the foreground is Grace McIlrath, all employees of Mr. Rose. Anti-Recession Housing Bill Signed

Lower Down Payments in Effect Today for Homes Financed by FHA

WASHINGTON — Starting today, homes financed by FHA-insured loans can be purchased with lower down payments. This reduction is one of the principal provisions of a $1,850,000 anti-recession housing bill signed into law Tuesday by President Eisenhower. The legislation is designed to speed the building of 20,000 homes this year and to create 500,000 new jobs.

Eisenhower gave his approval to the bill somewhat reluctantly. He conceded it will create new jobs, but said in an unusual message to Congress that it will also saddle the taxpayers with "a wholly unnecessary burden of up to one billion dollars" by forcing the government to assume obligations which rightfully belong to business. John M. Dickerman, executive director of the National Association of Homebuilders, said the law could be of "tremendous benefit" to moderate-income families unable to buy homes because of tight credit.

Volume Termed Small But Harold P. Brame, managing director of the National League of Insured Savings Associations, said "the housing industry suddenly isn't going to sprout wings and save the economy just because the so-called emergency housing bill has been signed." Brame said the volume of new credit provided by the measure is small in comparison with overall home financing operations. Here are the major provisions of the legislation:

—Federal Housing Commissioner Norman H. Mason ordered the lower downpayment rate on FHA-insured mortgages into effect immediately. The reduction will apply not only to new applications, but to those already on file and not yet processed.

The downpayment requirements in the past have been 3 per cent on the first $10,000 of value, 15 per cent of the next $6,000 and 30 per cent of additional value. The new law lifts the first bracket to $13,500. Thus, on a house valued at $15,000 the downpayment is trimmed from $1,050 to $630.

—The law increases from 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 per cent the interest rate on GI housing loans. The Veterans Administration is expected to order the increase into effect late this week.

Federal Mortgage Aid —Mason also put into effect immediately, and the VA later this week, the law's repeal of all dis-

Two Runs by Fire Department

The Harrisburg fire department made two fire runs yesterday. At 4:45 p. m. a run was made to 119 West O'Garra, where an auto owned by Herschel Brown had ignited under the hood from a flooding carburetor. There was damage to the hood and to wiring.

At 5 p. m. a run was made to Henry Denny's home in Dorris Heights. Fire Chief L. G. Martin said trash had been burned but that dirt had been thrown over the embers to put them out. However, he said, grass nearby caught fire from sparks and there was considerable damage to an outbuilding and contents, the building catching from the grass fire.

William Douglas Appointed to County Board

Replaces Ewell Winkelman, New Deputy County Clerk

William Douglas of 6 East Clark street, Harrisburg, has been appointed as an assistant supervisor on the Saline County Board of Supervisors, replacing Ewell Winkelman, who resigned to become deputy clerk in the office of County Clerk J. E. Rose.

Mr. Douglas, who has served previously on the county board, is a Republican, as is Mr. Winkelman. He was chosen yesterday at the annual Town Meeting of Harrisburg township, held in the basement of the court house.

The town board, which conducted the meeting, consisted of Virgil Ferrell, supervisor; Zola Sloan, town clerk; and Paul Spangler, O. L. Woods, Vern Joyner Sr., J. B. Pierson and Lonnie Norris, justices of the peace.

Mr. Ferrell presided during the part of the meeting at which Mr. Douglas was chosen as the assistant supervisor. He will have three more years to serve, as the Harrisburg county board members are elected in April of 1957 for four-year terms. The other assistant supervisors are Dr. John Slightom, Grover Dale Fulkerson, James Land and Charles Skaggs.

Everett Stricklin served as moderator of the annual meeting for the presentation of the budget and levy for the coming year by Atty. L. M. Hancock and their adoption.

Walter Gaskins, 78, Former Resident, Dies in Colorado

Walter Gaskins, 78, former Harrisburg resident, died in Pueblo, Colo., at 1:40 p. m. Tuesday. Mr. Gaskins had lived in Colorado for the past 20 years or more. He was the son of George and Kate Gaskins who lived most of their lives in the community which is now Gaskins City.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Gaskins; his daughter, Mrs. Hazel Edwards, and his grandson, Robert Edwards, all living in Colorado. He is also survived by his stepsons, John R. Jackson, Harrisburg, Robert Jackson in California and Thomas Jackson, Chicago. His brother, Charles Gaskins, preceded him in death in 1956.

Mr. Gaskins was a prominent business man in Harrisburg for many years and still owned business and residential buildings here at the time of his death.

Funeral services and interment will be held in Pueblo Thursday.

Eisenhower Issues New Go-Slow Warning About Cutting Taxes

Highway Bill Moves Toward Final Passage

Rep. Gray Says Illinois Will Get Additional Funds

WASHINGTON — An anti-recession highway bill moved closer to final passage today with surprise quick approval by House-Senate negotiators of a controversial anti-billboard proviso.

The negotiators, members of a Senate-House conference committee, voted late Tuesday to accept the Senate's anti-billboard clause despite predictions of a sharp battle. They agreed on all other issues in dispute between House and Senate.

The compromise measure now must secure final House and Senate approval before being sent to the White House. It would pump $5,500,000,000 in federal and state funds into road-building in the next two years and provide up to as many as half a million new jobs.

The House is scheduled to vote first on the compromise Thursday. If it approves, Senate concurrence by nightfall is expected.

Rep. Kenneth J. Gray (D-Ill.) said that matching funds for states are changed from 50-50 to 66 2/3 per cent federal to one-third state on A-B-C road building. Interstate roads will remain 90 per cent federal and 10 per cent state funds.

"This means Illinois will have an additional two hundred million dollars federal money to obligate this year, in addition to federal money now on hand plus that to be matched by the state," Gray said, adding:

"Twenty-five thousand new jobs will be created in addition to the number of jobs announced by Gov. Stratton in programs already planned. Road building should be more than doubled this year under the legislation agreed upon today."

He said the Illinois Division of Highways was being urged by him to schedule immediately all additional roads and improvements where engineering studies have been completed in southern Illinois.

McLeansboro to Observe 'Shirt-Tail Day' Saturday

MCLEANSBORO, Ill. — A town that launched "Operation Shirt-Tail" last week to help out its largest industry will observe "Shirt-Tail Day" this Saturday.

Mayor Harry Adams today requested all citizens to wear home-town made shirts with the shirt-tails hanging out on Saturday.

The shirt factory is making a king-size model, 32 collar and 51 sleeve length, which will be displayed downtown. Youngsters will wear cards saying they are wearing home-town shirts.

Message to Safety Conference

Illinois Leading Nation in Progress Toward Highway Safety, Stratton Says

By ROBERT F. GREENWAY

CHICAGO (UPI)—Gov. Stratton says that Illinois is leading the nation in its progress toward highway safety.

Stratton reported to the 500 Illinois delegates at the midwestern citizen leadership conference of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. The governor said that negligent driving should be outlawed as much as "murder, burglary or arson."

He put the problem of safe driving in the category of a moral problem. He called for development of individual responsibility that starts with home training.

See Special Movie

The Illinois delegation joined in the deliberations with 900 other persons from 13 midwestern states in tackling highway safety problems at the request of President Eisenhower.

A special movie of the President brought us his message: We should be doing twice as good as we are in putting traffic safety programs into effect.

The chairman of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety — Harlow C. Curtice who heads General Motors — said we could cut our traffic toll in half by buckling down to work on the problem. We know enough now to do it, he said. The Illinois group — like the other state groups — met separately to review the progress in the state and figure out where to go. All our ideas will be brought together later in order to give the President the midwestern picture.

Adlai H. Rust, president of the State Farm Mutual Automobile Co., Bloomington, presided at the Illinois session. The discussion ranged from teenage driving problems to the proposed constitutional amendment for judicial reform.

Backs Court Reform

Rod Stiefbold said most teenage drivers are "responsible drivers." He said it was wrong for the good ones to be blamed for the bad. "Accentuate the positive," he said. The youth is a Naperville High senior and chairman of traffic safety of the Illinois Association of Student Councils.

Stratton said judicial reform would bring better traffic courts. Mrs. William Winn, Decatur, agreed. She's from the Decatur-Macon County Traffic Safety Council. She said the reforms would abolish speed traps run by some justices of the peace.

The general discussions at the meeting emphasized the need for citizen participation — for reaching Mr. Average Motorist with the safety message.

The President in his message emphasized the role of leadership within the community in arousing interest in safety matters.

Humorist to Address Dinner Club Meeting April 19

The next meeting of the Southern Illinois Dinner club will be held Saturday evening, April 19, it was announced today by Dr. William Johnson of Eldorado, club president.

The meeting, to be held at the Kurto country club, will have as its guest speaker John W. Pride, an Ozarkian humorist and philosopher from Pride Valley, Arkansas.

Pride, who is said to offer his humor much in the manner of the late Will Rogers, draws extensively from his home surroundings for his examples and illustrations for his humorous talk.

Early announcement is given for the meeting so members will not arrange other plans to interfere with their attendance at the Dinner club meeting.

At City Council

Lee Morse Seated as Finance Commissioner; Action Unanimous

Lee Morse, elected city commissioner March 11 to fill a vacancy on the Harrisburg city council, last night was seated as commissioner of finance at a regular council meeting.

The vacancy was in the finance commissioner's chair and the action in designating Mr. Morse the finance commissioner was unanimous.

Mayor Claud Gibbons first had the council members to stand and welcomed Mr. Morse to the council, and upon motion by Commissioner Sneed Jordan and a second by Commissioner Morris Darnell, there came the unanimous vote.

Commissioner Morse then submitted the names of his two appointees, Olive Patterson for city clerk and Bill Williams for city treasurer, and they were confirmed unanimously. The two were appointed by former Commissioner Don Williams and have served through the first three years of the four-year administration.

Mr. Morse thanked the council for the courtesy and kindness shown him and said he hoped and prayed he can fulfill his duties as commissioner in the way they should be fulfilled.

Says Effect On Future Economy Must Be Studied

President to Send Defense Reorganization Plan to Congress

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower sounded another go-slow warning today on cutting taxes.

The President told a news conference that we must stop and look very steadily at proposals to cut taxes. He said we must really make sure that we are right and that a tax cut would have a beneficial effect upon the economy in future years.

He was asked about New York financier Bernard M. Baruch's congressional testimony Tuesday that it would be "folly" to cut taxes. The President replied that he had known Baruch for 30 years, had a great respect for his opinions, and believed that they warranted serious consideration.

Central Defense Authority In other news conference highlights, the President:

—Said his Defense Department reorganization plan, which he probably will submit to Congress Thursday, is based on the necessity of the defense secretary having central authority as to the size, composition and strategic planning of armed forces.

—Explained that despite his objections, he signed the anti-recession housing bill Tuesday because he believed its advantages outweighed the disadvantages.

—Said he decided against a unilateral suspension of nuclear tests because he didn't believe it would be for the good of the United States.

—Said he hadn't abandoned hope that Russia would change its attitude sufficiently so that there can be a constructive East-West summit meeting.

Cautious About Automation —Described as ridiculous a statement that a so-called palace guard was keeping from him information that he should have.

This was in connection with a statement made in a recent television interview by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N. H.).

—Expressed the opinion that industrial automation will be a good thing for the nation but he cautioned that industry should not use it only for the purpose of throwing people out of work.

—Said he does not believe a large nuclear test device man be exploded secretly without detection by other countries.

—Vetoed a suggestion that the Psychological Warfare Board be re-established in an effort to improve U. S. achievements in a propaganda battle with Russia. But he conceded that it might be a good idea to have one official, possibly in the State Department, for that purpose.

—Said emphatically that he does not believe the nation can be put back on the road to economic recovery just by federal spending. He said he would rather see more private spending instead.

—Said he decided sometime ago when the matter was under consideration, against putting Vice President Richard M. Nixon at the head of an inter-government operating committee which sees that White House decisions are carried out by the various departments and agencies. He said it was decided that this would be impossible because of the vice president's statutory and constitutional responsibilities. However, the President said that Nixon had been given more opportunity than any other vice president he knew of to participate in executive department planning and decisions.

Who'll Be the First to See the Other Side of the Moon?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Postmaster General Summerfield makes certain that a senator's newspaper is delivered on time; FCC commissioners' color TV sets ran into plenty of money;
Nasser boasts he has two kings to go.

WASHINGTON. — The public doesn't know it, but Postmaster General Summerfield has an interesting way of treating certain pet senators regarding the delivery of mail. A secret order has just been revealed regarding the delivery of the Baltimore Sun to Sen. Glenn Beall, Maryland Republican.

Like a lot of other people in these days when Mr. Summerfield has slowed down their mail delivery, Senator Beall squawked.
But, unlike other people, he got results. Senator Beall likes to have his Baltimore Sun delivered so he can read it early. And when it didn't arrive regularly and promptly, the Post Office Department issued an order officially titled, "Delay of Baltimore Sun to Senator Glenn Beall of Maryland."

The secret post office order specifies that the specially labeled Baltimore Sun is to be put in the official pouch at 3:05 a. m. and is to be delivered at 5:15 a. m. tied to a package of first class letter mail. If it misses this mail, it is then to be delivered by special delivery messenger, a charge for which the average taxpayer pays 30 cents.

A "daily watch" is even to be posted to keep an eye open for the senator's morning newspaper.

EXPENSIVE TV LOANS
FCC commissioners have tried to brush off the "loans" of color TV sets from the Radio Corporation of America, but a close scrutiny of secret congressional reports indicates that these sets ran into quite a bit of money. The average citizen would sure appreciate a similar loan for his parlor.

The records show that on Jan.
3, 1957, RCA sent through "purchase order No. OS-949" for seven 21-inch color TV receivers "part of total price of $9,844.90." These went to the seven Federal Communications commissioners.

Approximately two months later,
Feb. 27, 1957, RCA Service company sent through invoice "No.
23/923028 to Radio Corporation of America covering monthly prementative maintenance service . . . for Jan. 1, 1957 to Dec. 31, 1957—total amount $8,683.96."

In other words, the cost and service of the color TV sets for the FCC commissioners ran to $18,000 and right off the bat.

Later, on April 11, 1957, RCA sent through "Requisition No. OS-204 ordering 10 models at total amount of $5,662.93," to "replace sets at the following locations:
Bartley, MacDonough, Dorfer, Hyde, Lee, Mack." Though RCA misspelled MacDonough's and Dorfer's names, this referred to six of the commissioners.

On the same date another order was put through replacing RCA color TV sets for the commissioners.

A succession of orders flowed from RCA every couple of months to make sure that the commissioners all had color TV sets of the latest type and in perfect order.
The list of FCC personnel shows that all the commissioners had both color and black-and-white sets, while Commissioner Lee was especially favored with a hi-fidelity set in addition. Ex-Commissioner Mack got both a color receiver and black-and-white receiver, a hi-fidelity and a phonograph.

NEAR EAST NOTES
Dictator Nasser of Egypt is now boasting that he has Saudi Arabia in his pocket with only two kings to go—King Faisal of Iraq and King Hussein of Jordan. Then his rule of the Arab states will be complete. . . . It was a year and a half ago that John Foster Dulles and Ike rescued Nasser when he was cringing in a bomb-proof shelter in the suburbs of Cairo with the tough little Israeli army a few miles from the Suez Canal and the British and French bombarding Port Said. Nasser is now showing his gratitude. . . .

There were two reasons for King Saud's virtual abdication: 1, Fear of his life; 2, his tangled finances.
. . . There had been two attempts on King Saud's life last year, one he suspected was engineered by his brother. Two weeks ago Saud was barricaded in his own palace at Riyadh, but even so was fearful of assassination. . . . One reason he veered toward the U.S.A. and away from Nasser about a year ago was the fact that American agents secured evidence that Nasser was plotting his assassination.

Prince Faisal, who is now in the saddle, used the battle cry that Saud was a Cadillac playboy including in air-conditioned palaces while the country went bankrupt.
Faisal's first move will be to demand more royalties from the Arabian-American Oil company.
They will protest but probably increase the ante—especially since both Japan and Italy have recently offered 75 per cent instead of 50 per cent of the take to other Arab countries.

CITIZENS OF SALINE COUNTY:

My Name Is

Charles Donelson

I am a Deputy Sheriff of Saline County, and a candidate for the Democratic Nomination for

SHERIFF

In the April 8th
Primary Election

I have been an electrician, miner, factory worker, filling station operator, and law enforcement officer, and through those experiences I have come to know the problems of the people of our county in regard to law enforcement, and particularly the problems of parents of growing boys and girls. MY AMBITION IS TO GIVE ALL YOU PEOPLE HONEST AND SINCERE LAW ENFORCEMENT . . . I HAVE NO OUTSIDE INTEREST.

I know the needs of this county, not only in law enforcement, but in obtaining industry. I believe we should put our best foot forward, not only in the municipalities, but in the entire county.
I can do little without the backing of the voters, but with their support, and the help of competent, qualified deputies representing various sections of the county, I firmly believe your county law enforcement can do much to better conditions generally in Saline County.

I intend to talk with every voter I can possibly contact, but if I miss seeing you, please give this message your consideration.
If you believe as I do . . . if you think the matter over seriously and agree with me . . . then I will appreciate your vote and support.

NOTHING IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN GOOD LAW ENFORCEMENT. WE HAVE
IT NOW . . . LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY!

Kupples Klass Holds "Carry-In" Dinner at Wesley Center Monday

The Kupples Klass of the First Methodist church held a "carry-in" dinner in Wesley Center Monday, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Edwin Aeschleman, missionaries from Umtali in Southern Rhodesia. Mrs. Aeschleman is the sister of Miss Bernice Patterson, teacher of the class, and Dr. Aeschleman was unable to attend due to illness. An invitation had been extended to all church members and there was a large number present.

J. G. Parkhurst, class president, introduced Mrs. Aeschleman who narrated slides shown on the advancement of the people of Rhodesia and their appreciation of their religious training was evident. Among the slides shown were pictures of a Communion service, the Boy Scout troop, a men's conference and other meetings similar to those held in America. One thing that was of special interest was the size of the animals native to Rhodesia. Elephants, giraffes and other animals seemed to have grown to almost double the size of the same species in other countries.

Following the program, Otis Youngs, class president dismissed the meeting with prayer. Dr. and Mrs. Aeschleman will leave for California soon to visit their daughters.

Mrs. John Allen, Rt. 2, has been moved from Lightner hospital to room 811, eighth floor at the Missouri Baptist hospital, St. Louis, Mo., where she will be a medical patient, due to a nervous breakdown. Her husband and daughter, Elaine, who were in St. Louis with her, arrived home Tuesday.

Named Director Of New Labor Institute at SIU

John M. McDermott

CARBONDALE, Ill. — John M. McDermott, a prominent figure in area labor circles, was named director of Southern Illinois University's new Labor Institute Monday.

McDermott, now an instructor in SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute, was formerly representative for the Southern Illinois Labor Council. He will take over his new post July 1.

For the past two years, he has organized and supervised SIU classes for apprentices, journeymen, and officers of area labor groups. He was largely responsible for the Southern Illinois Business Agents Conference which meets weekly to work for industrial peace and elimination of jurisdictional disputes.

American Families in Cuban Rebel Area Ask U. S. Navy Protection

Want Warships
If Civil War Makes Flight Necessary

HAVANA, Cuba (U.P.)—Forty-five American families in rebel-infested Oriente Province have asked the U. S. Navy to send warships there as a protective measure, reports from Santiago de Cuba said today.

The reports said the families, employees of the U. S. government-owned Nicaro nickel plant on the north coast, forwarded their request to the Guantanamo Naval Base in even civil war makes their flight necessary.

The U. S. itself cancelled all leaves and took what authorities described as "emergency measures" in preparation for the expected start of an all-out war

Fire Danger High in Area

BENTON, Ill. (U.P.)—District forester Martin Anderson at Benton warns that fire danger in southern Illinois is high now and is likely to remain that way until about May 1.

Four woodland or field fires broke out Tuesday in the 12-county district supervised by Anderson. One in Pope County endangered several homes. Others were reported near Thompsonville, at Kend City and at Lake Benton, all in Franklin County. The largest burned off some 15 acres.

All four fires were caused by burning of debris. Anderson said many home owners have large collections of rubbish and debris because of wet weather in March and are now starting to burn it.

Anderson said debris fires should be carefully tended and should not be started until after 4 p. m. when higher humidity lessens the danger of the fire spreading.

Anderson said the fire danger will decrease when vegetation greens up about May 1.

President Asks New Funds for Missiles, Planes

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra $1,455,747,000 for missiles, planes and Polaris-firing submarines.

The requested funds for the new fiscal year starting July 1 also would be used to speed up and expand research and development programs and "modifications of other high priority defense programs."

The request for extra money would push defense spending for fiscal 1959 beyond the $41-billion-dollar mark. In his budget message to Congress in January, the President had estimated defense spending for the next fiscal year at $39,800,000,000.

Khrushchev Visits Hungary

BUDAPEST, Hungary (U.P.)—A triumphantly smiling Nikita Khrushchev arrived today in Budapest and pledged that Russia's ties with Hungary "can never be destroyed."

It was Khrushchev's first appearance abroad since he took over the Soviet premiership. It also was the international diplomatic debut of his new first deputy, Frol Kozlov.

Thousands of troops and police formed a security cordon on the ground as Khrushchev left the plane first, smiling and waving jauntily to the cheering Communists who greeted him from behind a three-deep barrier of militia guards.

Anti-Recession Housing Bill Signed

cent controls on FHA and GI mortgages. A mortgage discount is the difference between the amount actually advanced by the lender and the face value of the loan—the amount that must be repaid. Mason said removing discount controls lifts a "serious handicap to the free flow of mortgage funds."

The law provides $1,500,000,000 for the Federal National Mortgage Assn. to buy up secondary mortgages under special assistance programs. This agency buys mortgages from private lenders so they will have more cash to make new loans.

The law extends for two years the VA's direct home loan program to veterans who live in small towns and rural areas where private financing is not easily available. It adds 300 million dollars to VA funds for such loans.

The law also provides 50 million dollars to FNMA for the purchase of additional military housing mortgages and raises from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent the interest rates on FHA military housing loans.

against the government by Fidel Castro's rebels.

About 250 dependents of Navy personnel were moved into the base from nearby Boqueron, Camanera and Guantanamo City. Castro has threatened to start his April "blood bath" campaign against President Fulgencio Batista in that area.

Batista, armed with extraordinary powers granted him by the congress Monday night, was preparing the armed forces to meet the rebel threat which provoked a "state of national emergency."

The cabinet approved the extraordinary powers Tuesday night and forwarded it for publication in the "official gazette" which makes it law.

Informed quarters in Havana said the government had sent 500 more troops into Oriente Province to bolster its forces there.

Reports from the mountainous province said a "business as usual" outlook prevailed with only minor skirmishes reported.

The U. S. Navy's precautions at Guantanamo Bay coincided with reports of increasing rebel harassment of American concerns in Oriente.

The American-owned South Santiago Manganese Mining Co., was visited by an armed 15-man rebel patrol and ordered to shut down. Similar orders were given to another U. S. manganese mine near Oriente's capital city and one near Charco Rendon.

Unconfirmed reports said the Texas Oil Co. was preparing to shut down its big 15 million dollar refinery near Santiago de Cuba.

Easter Cantata On Good Friday by Carrier Mills Choir

"Hallelujah! What A Savior," an Easter cantata by John W. Peterson, will be presented by an 80-voice choir on Good Friday at 7:30 p. m. under the direction of Tom Whiteside, CMCHS music director, in the Carrier Mills Methodist church.

The choir, composed of the high school mixed choir and the church choirs, has been practicing weekly for seven weeks in preparation for the presentation of the cantata. It is hoped this community worship service will become an annual affair.

Mr. Peterson, author of the famous Gospel song, "It Took A Miracle," has used Philip P. Bliss' great hymn, "Hallelujah! What A Savior!" for the title piece in composing this 40-minute program.

Old favorite hymns such as "Tell Me the Story of Jesus," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" and "Christ Arose" have been blended with new composition and accompanying scripture narration to give a complete account of the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

The narrator for the cantata is Vic Wyatt; the soloists are Jarrell Chaney, Charles Rann and Mrs. Tom Whiteside; the organist is Mrs. Lowell Melven and Larry Edwards is the pianist.

The cantata is sponsored by the Carrier Mills Ministerial Alliance and everyone is invited to attend.

Seek Judgments For Auto Damages

Two lawsuits seeking judgments for auto damages had been filed in circuit court today by Atty. Robert V. Wilson.

In one, Frank A. Reynolds asks $1,000 and costs from Robert E. Driskell as a result of a collision near Perry, Fla., Feb. 4, 1955.

In the other Edward Weaver asks $500 from Daniel W. Porter for auto damage. This suit resulted from a collision near Creal Springs Oct. 28, 1955.

Activate Giant CIPS Unit At Grand Tower

GRAND TOWER, Ill. (U.P.)—Power lines of Central Illinois Public Service Co. began carrying electricity on a commercial basis at midnight last night from the giant new 100,000-kilowatt generating unit at the utility's Grand Tower power station.

The commercial activation of the unit marked the end of testing operations that have been underway the past several weeks, and completion of the multi-million dollar project that began three years and two months ago.

Station Supt. Gerald Leforge said dedication ceremonies will be held at a later date. Considerable "clean-up" work remains to be done by station personnel, including the removal of debris left from the construction work and painting of the mammoth Westinghouse turbine and other equipment.

The unit is expected to increase the annual coal consumption at the Grand Tower station by 250,000 tons. It almost doubles the capacity of the station.

Approximately 250 men were employed daily during the height of the construction. A brick addition, equal in height to a 12-story building, was erected to house the towering boiler and generating equipment. Also included in the new structure are a conference room for employee meetings and other employee facilities.

Extra Hour for Primary Voting

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—The secretary of state's office reminded voters today they will have an extra hour to go to the polls for the April 8 Illinois primary.

The 1957 Legislature changed the polls closing hour from 5 p. m. to 6 p. m. and the primary will be the first statewide election since the change was made.

Polls will open at 6 a. m.

Preliminaries for Area Entries In Chicagoland Music Festival at SIU May 3

CARBONDALE, Ill. (U.P.)—Preliminary contests for area entries in this summer's Chicagoland Music Festival will be held at Southern Illinois University May 3, a week before the annual "Music Under the Stars" program at SIU.

In the past, vocal and piano contests to select downstate nominees to the Chicagoland Festival finals have been conducted on the same day as "Music Under the Stars," mammoth outdoor spectacle of massed high school and elementary bands and choruses in SIU's McAndrew Stadium. This year's "Music Under the Stars" is scheduled for 7 p. m. May 10, with the morning and afternoon preceding it devoted to group rehearsals.

Dr. Robert Hines, SIU choral director who replaced the late Floyd Wakeland as chairman of the "Stars" festival and area Chicagoland preliminaries, said the piano contests will be broken into four categories based on the difficulty of music in the contest list. Amateurs of any age may enter.

Centralia Man Ordered to Pay Costs by Court

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (U.P.)—A Federal Court Tuesday ordered Robert M. Sternberg, Centralia service station operator, to pay costs in his citation for contempt of court.

Sternberg appeared in the court of U. S. District Judge William Juergens because he had refused to obey a summons of internal revenue agent Donald Hood. The summons ordered him to furnish certain financial information concerning his 1956 income tax report.

Hood turned the case over to the U. S. attorney's office and again Sternberg refused to supply the information, contending the government owed him a return on his 1954 income tax, and he would answer nothing until he got the money.

Sternberg appeared in court Tuesday with the information requested by the agent and the U. S. attorney's office, and was ordered to pay the cost of prosecution, $35 in court fees plus marshal's costs.

Engineer Halts Train with Woman Lying on Tracks

MARION, Ill. (U.P.)—An alert engineer braked his six-car freight to a stop 75 feet short of where a woman was lying across the tracks with her head on one of the rails here early today.

Ed Cross, Salem, an engineer for the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad, said he at first thought he saw a paper sack lying on the tracks, but then determined it was a woman.

Cross told police that after the train stopped, the woman jumped up and laughed. She told train men she was "Louise Browning, an authoress."

Police did not identify the woman, but said she had previously attempted suicide by running in front of a truck. The woman's husband told police she had been suffering from a "nervous condition."

Justice Department Checks Complaints On Auto Prices

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen revealed today that Justice Department anti-trust investigators have been checking complaints of price fixing by auto dealers in several areas, particularly in the San Francisco Bay area.

He said the grand jury investigating alleged price-fixing by new car dealers in the Washington, D. C., area, has "touched on" similar charges involving dealers on the West Coast.

"We've been investigating this problem on the coast for some time, particularly in the Oakland and San Francisco Bay area," Hansen said.

Hansen, who heads the department's antitrust division, said the grand jury impaneled there is the first formal inquiry undertaken by the department. He said it was initiated when the dealers allegedly involved failed to come forth "voluntarily" with needed information.

Justice Department officials said the probe may produce an answer to the question: Why do automobile prices stay up despite the big slump in auto sales?

One purpose of the investigation, according to Justice Department officials, is to check into whether there is any agreement among car dealers to utilize so-called "price packs."

Under the "pack," list prices of automobiles and accessories are ballooned and then large discounts and trade-ins are offered as inducements to buyers.

Local dealers have denied any such agreements exist here.

House Passes $3.2 Billion Agriculture Bill

Measure Sent To Senate After Voice Vote Passage

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The House passed and sent to the Senate Tuesday a $3,216,998,549 agriculture appropriation bill designed to block administration efforts to economize on the farm program.

The bill slipped through by a voice vote without a partisan floor fight for the first time in many years. Republicans did not offer a single amendment to make it conform more closely to administration recommendations.

Administration leaders apparently figured they would have a tough time rallying support for the amendments in the wake of the administration's reduction in dairy price supports and President Eisenhower's veto of the farm price freeze bill.

The measure carried $103,900,000 less in direct cash than the President requested. But it actually would provide for considerably more spending on farm programs in the future than the President sought.

It contained an advance federal commitment to put up 250 million dollars in cash next year—double the amount the administration sought—to continue the Agricultural Conservation Program at present levels. Under this program farmers are paid part of the out-of-pocket costs of approved conservation practices.

The measure also carried all of the 100 million dollars requested by the administration for the national school lunch program, along with an extra 55 million which didn't show up in the cash total.

The reduction in actual cash below the administration's budget won't have much impact on spending. In preparing the bill, the House Appropriations Committee cut 100 million dollars off funds for the long-range agricultural conservation program on the theory that it wouldn't be needed because fewer farmers were signing up. But should more funds be needed Congress would have no choice but to put up the money.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Specialty issues scored some good gains today to feature an otherwise irregular stock market. Trading was quiet.

The noon Dow Jones stock averages: Industrials 445.11, off 0.36; rails 133.10, off 0.16; utilities 74.23, up 0.07; stocks 151.71, off 0.09.

Negro Minister, Overflow Crowd in Harlem Say Final Goodbye to Handy

NEW YORK (U.P.)—A jazz trumpet's sweet shrill and a Negro minister's eulogy said a final goodbye to W. C. Handy today in a Harlem church.

"His personal blues are now ended," the Rev. Dr. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. told the thousands who filled the Abyssinian Baptist Church for the funeral of the "father of the blues."

"No more the problems of Beale Street. No more the irritation of Memphis. No more the vexation of the St. Louis woman. No more the cynical 'love, oh love, oh careless love.'"

Gabriel Has Understudy

The Negro minister and congressman spoke to an overflowing crowd of 3,000 that jammed the main auditorium and to 1,000 who filled another room in the big Harlem church. They and a vast crowd in the street outside listened to the service over loudspeakers.

"Gabriel now has an understudy and when the last trumpet shall sound Handy will blow the last blues," Powell said.

"From this pulpit I have personally buried King Oliver, Fats Waller, Charles (Yardbird) Parker, Bill (Bojangles) Robinson. And now Bill Handy is with them—what a jam session.

"It is true there is no business like show business except for one business and that's God's business. Anyone passing through this world who makes life a little bit more joyful and a little happier is doing the business of God. W. C. Handy was an ambassador of joy."

The huge New York Negro district was set for the biggest funeral since 250,000 jammed the streets and hung from tenements nine years ago on the passing of dancer Bill Robinson.

Picked Up for Hamilton Authorities

Early in the morning police cordoned off all traffic in front of the church.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Donelson today picked up Charles Martin of Eldorado, wanted by Hamilton county authorities on a charge of assault and battery. He was picked up by officers from McLeansboro at the Saline county jail.

LEAD WITH YOUR LEFT

by ED LACY

THE STORY: Detective Wintino's wife Mary, who doesn't like being the wife of a police man, has accepted an invitation to a bridge party. However, Wintino now must appear at night court and he must break the news to his wife.

XII

Mary opened the door, a couple of bags in her arms. She looked fine in a neat gray suit that was the right contrast for her bright blond hair.

She blew a kiss at me as she said, "Hello, hon," dropped the packages on the couch, then took of her coat and high heels, pushed the Chinese screen out of the way and started things cooking. "I've had a hard day. Did you get a chance to call Uncle Frank?"

"Aha. Probably see him tomorrow."

"Swell." She sat down on the couch and began to undress. "It's so sticky. I hope this isn't the start of a bad summer. All I could think about this afternoon was a shower. Are you starved? I want a quick shower first."

"I'm not starved but I want to eat soon."

"Don't will probably have a lot of stuff to eat. He's always talking about picking up foreign snacks at Charles. I got chopped meat and peas for supper. How is Uncle Frank?" She stuck out one long leg, rolled off a stocking.

"Bouncing as usual. Babes, I have to take a punk to Night Court for arraignment."

"With any luck I'll be at the bridge game by 9:30. I'll take a cab." I waited for the explosion. Her voice wasn't quite shrill as she said, "Oh, Dave, I told you they were having exactly eight and now..."

I went over and helped take off the other stocking. "Honey, I didn't plan it this way. One of those things."

I got a break in Night Court. We were called early and since my boy had confessed, the arraignment went through fast.

Don Tills lived down in the Village in an old brownstone that had been made over into small apartments. It was still muggy and I got screwed up as always with the Village streets, and all the walking and rushing left me sweating a little.

But I was there shortly after nine and Mary was pleased. The Tills had a couple of high-ceiling rooms with furniture like ours, only more of it and probably more expensive. Mary was wrong about them having exactly eight people, they had nine—there was a guy with a big belly and a sort of tense face, including a thick black mustache, who was sleeping off a bottle on the couch. I never did get his name or what he was doing there and nobody paid him any mind, except to break into laughter when he'd mutter, "Who's on the gate?" every 15 minutes.

"What kind of a belt would you like, Dave, rye, scotch, gin, vodka, or tequila?" Don asked me. I didn't want to sound like a square so I said "Too warm for hard stuff. Got a beer handy?"

Grace, Don's wife, who really filled her black and gold slacks, gave me a can of beer and a kind of bottomless cup that fitted over the top of the can. She said, "Now you won't need a glass." I smiled. "I wouldn't have needed a glass anyway. Thank you."

"This way the flavor of the beer isn't lost by pouring it out of the can," Don told me. Seemed like they'd given a lot of thought to something as simple as beer drinking. Then he told everybody, "Fellow I went to Yale with and who works for a Chicago agency, wrote me one of their clients is working on a paper beer container. Has some kind of keg lining to improve the flavor, I believe."

Everybody except me started talking about this: I was waiting to play bridge. Half the time I didn't even know what they were talking about. They had pet words they all liked to mouth: "the cost-level," or something was "sales-wise," or had a "built-in selling point."

Still they all looked like nice bright people and I sipped my beer, which only made me sweat more, and glanced at myself in a wall mirror to see if my shirt looked wilted, and listened. About a half-hour later they finally got the cards out.

We were on the second rubber when a fellow at the other table stood up and took off his coat, saying, "Does anybody mind? Getting rather warm in here."

"You ass," Don said, "you mean you stood on convention here? Anybody feels warm, strip. And that goes for the ladies too." He took off his snappy dark-grained sport coat and opened his yellow waistcoat.

Grace said some thing about waiting for a buy on a couple of air-conditioning units and when I was dummy I peeled off my coat. As I sat down there was a sudden silence in the room, except for light snores of the lush on the couch. There wasn't even the small noises of the cards. It was sort of a shocked silence. Mary was staring at me, her mouth angry-hard. In fact everybody was looking at me, including the four people at the other table.

I casually glanced down at my pants, at my shirt and tie—nothing was open or dirty. Mary was really burning, her face flushed. Glancing around I asked brightly, "I make a funny noise or something?"

Don pointed a slender finger at my shoulder holster and gun. "Guess this is the first time any of us have seen a setup like that. I assume that's a real gun?"

"Sure is. I'm a cop. Detective third grade."

Factory 'Quit Rate' Reflects Decline In Job Opportunities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reports that fewer factory workers quit their jobs in February than in any month since World War II.

The "quit rate" dropped to 6 per 1,000 in February, reflecting the limited number of job opportunities.

Factory layoffs declined "substantially" last month from high January levels, the department said. They skidded from 38 per 1,000 in January to 27 per 1,000 last month. Hires also dropped slightly last month.

The department said layoffs dropped most in the previously hard-hit heavy manufacturing plants. Aircraft plants reported a pickup in hiring and some decline in layoffs.

Stassen's Chances Improving

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The word in Washington today is bad news for Republican Party regulars in the state of Pennsylvania—and from coast to coast.

The word is that Harold E. Stassen has a good chance in Pennsylvania to make a big and astonishing political comeback. Every Republican county chairman in the state opposed Stassen's desire for the party's governorship nomination.

Primary day is May 20. Stassen's chances of winning have been improving hour by hour. Like Minnesota, his native state, Pennsylvania will not be big enough for Stassen if he is nominated and elected governor this year. Stassen's ambition has been for years to be nominated and elected president of the United States.

As the Republican governor of big Pennsylvania, Stassen would be entitled to another try for the presidential nomination in 1960. Few who have observed his political career doubt that he has that in mind and, if not in 1960, then, in 1964.

Controls Big Delegation

All of this is bad news for Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Stassen spent himself and considerable money to prevent Nixon's renomination for a second term. He argued that Nixon's name on the ticket would cost President Eisenhower millions of votes and, probably, obtain the election of the Democratic presidential nominee.

So, as governor of Pennsylvania, Stassen would be counted among the biggest obstacles to the Republican nomination of Nixon in 1960 for president. Pennsylvania is tied with California for the second largest delegation to Republican national conventions. The Republican governor of big Pennsylvania would control that big delegation and Stassen would be expected to use that control to beat Nixon and, if possible, to obtain the presidential nomination for himself.

All of this is causing regular Republicans in and out of Pennsylvania to lie awake at nights and toss in their beds. The opposition of the organization regulars in Pennsylvania, such as all of the county chairmen, may be more of a help than a hindrance to Stassen in his campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Stassen is bidding for the Maverick vote.

His Political Background

Republican State Chairman George I. Bloom warned party regulars the other day against taking Stassen lightly. Bloom called him an "old pro" and Stassen is all of that. He is raking the grass roots in search of independent votes and he is turning them up.

Stassen was three times elected governor of Minnesota before his home state political chores were interrupted by wartime naval service. Seeking a more important political background for his ambitions, Stassen moved to Pennsylvania in 1948 to become president of the University of Pennsylvania. Then he came into government service in Washington and achieved Cabinet rank as the President's special assistant on disarmament.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles finally pried Stassen out of that job. He has been called the first and only victim of Dulles' policy of "massive retaliation." In contrast to the current thin-skinned crop, Stassen is well fitted to be a politician. He does not wound easily and he doesn't bruise at all.

Minoso's Bat Silences Critics Of Lane Trades

By United Press

Those critics of Cleveland Indians General Manager Frank Lane are being drowned out today by the thunder of Minnie Minoso's bat.

And they'll cease to exist at all if the newly-acquired Larry Doby pans out for the Indians the way Minoso is. Acquired Dec. 4 in a deal that involved the popular Early Wynn and Al Smith, Minoso is enjoying one of the finest springs of his nine-year career.

All the 34-year old native of Mantanzas, Cuba, did Tuesday was wallop three homers and a single to drive in eight runs and lead the Tribe to a 14-7 victory over the Chicago Cubs. That outburst topped another terrific showing by Ernie Banks who smacked his 10th and 11th homers of the spring and knocked in five runs for the losers.

Lane was criticized for making both the Minoso and Doby deals but in reuniting sluggers who twice previously have been "roomies" he is trying to "wake up" a city whose attendance last season fell to 720,000.

Warm-Ups Begin For Masters Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The Masters golf tournament, won by relative youngsters the past three years, starts Thursday for the 22nd time with four old timers making perhaps a last grand effort to stave off the new generation.

Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead, the only three-time winners in Masters history, along with two-time winner and four-time runner-up Ben Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum, holder of the record 18-hole score in Masters play, know this may be it if they are ever going to win the big one again.

Dominate for Six Years
For six years, 1949 through 1954, Snead, Demaret and Hogan dominated the Masters scene. Slammin' Sammy winning in 1949 '52 and in a 1954 playoff over Hogan. Demaret, who had also won in 1940 and '47, was the 1950 winner, and Hogan emerged on top in 1951 and '53.

But the past three years have been dominated by the younger generation. Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist from Memphis, won in 1955, Jackie Burke Jr., in 1956, and Doug Ford was victorious by three strokes of Snead last year.

Snead posted a three under par 69 Tuesday over the 6,850-yard course which most of the pros said played "long" due to heavy recent rains. Hogan had a three over par 75 practice round.

Venture Five Under
Ken Venturi, the California youngster picked by Snead and other veterans as a favorite in the tournament founded by the ailing Bobby Jones, showed Tuesday he intends to live up to his billing. He put together a 33-34 round for a five under par card of 67.

Amateur William Hyndman of Philadelphia, a member of the 1957 Walker Cup team, matched Snead's three under par practice round of 69.

The Augusta National golf course, designed by Bobby Jones in 1933 and now the favorite golfing grounds of President Eisenhower, was in top shape for the opening round of match play. A field of about 90 golfers, somewhat less than the 101 that teed off on opening day last year, was shaping up.

Kiwanis Basketball Awards Presented to Hassett, Pavelonis

Eldorado Coach
Al Adams Speaker
At Local Meeting

Two basketball awards by the Harrisburg Kiwanis club were presented to two Harrisburg Township high school basketball players Tuesday evening at the Masonic temple.

Ray Hassett received the plaque for the most valuable player and Bob Pavelonis received the plaque for the most free throws during the past season. The awards were presented by John Dotson, HTHS basketball coach. It was the second successive year that Hassett had received the most valuable player award. Following the meeting Hassett and Kinch Jones, also a HTHS varsity cage player, and both seniors, left for Statesboro, Georgia, to the Georgia State Teachers College, where they will visit the campus during Easter vacation. Hassett has received a full scholarship there for the next season.

The meeting last night was the Kiwanis club's annual meeting to honor the HTHS basketball players.

Important in Education
Principal speaker for the program was Al Adams, head coach of the Eldorado Township high school, who discussed the importance of continuing athletics in the nation's high schools.

Mr. Adams stated that fears from Russian Sputniks have brought about a trend to de-emphasize athletics in future education programs. But, he stated, physical fitness should be part of the high school program, as in the present day, due to cars and television, people do not get enough exercise and too many are just spectators enjoying the sport.

A successful athletic program in a high school must have a school board interested in athletics, a school administrator sold on athletics, and the community and taxpayer also interested, Mr. Adams stated. The communities should get behind education and supply sufficient funds for a full educational program including athletics, he said.

Athletics are self supporting in many schools, Mr. Adams stated, and added that the athletic program in a high school is the spirit of the school and it helps conduct and finance other activities.

Praises HTHS Team

Coach Adams praised the fine relationship between Eldorado and Harrisburg, especially in athletics. It was not always so, he said, and he believes the fine relationship has been promoted by the civic clubs, schools, coaches and the communities.

He also praised the neat appearance and fine sportsmanship displayed by the HTHS basketball team during the past season, stating it was impressive to everyone who had contact with the team.

President Robert Rushing introduced Mr. Adams and also introduced Coach Dotson. Mr. Dotson in turn introduced members of the team who were present and Gene Bland and Chester Caddas, members of his coaching staff. He also praised the Kiwanis club for its activities with youth in the community.

President Rushing announced the Divisional Fellowship meeting which will be held at Vienna Thursday evening, April 10. The meeting will begin at 7 p. m. and members will leave from the Masonic temple here at 6 p. m. There will be no club meeting on Tuesday, April 8, and members are requested to attend the Vienna meeting.

Key club guests at the meeting last night were Eddie Price and Ronnie Henson. Donnie Beggs, one of the varsity players present at the meeting, also was introduced as lieutenant governor-elect of District 10 of the Key clubs. He is the son of C. J. Beggs, also a Kiwanian.

Thinking
It OverBy Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

"For I was hungry and ye gave me meat. I was thirsty and ye gave me drink, I was a stranger and ye took me in." Jesus used this text for one of His Holy Week discourses.

"When did I these things?" asked the righteous.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me," said the Lord.

To many this message is fantastic. It goes far beyond the giving of charity. It is unnecessary in this world of plenty. Some go so far as to say, "Let every man find his own way."

Are we going to reach the end of Lent without learning the message of service and of love for our fellowmen? Everyone needs a helping hand at some time. We do not have to search far to find someone to help in some vital way.

Farm Truckers
Win Injunction

SPRINGFIELD — A group of farm truckers has won a temporary injunction barring the state from arresting them for hauling goods other than those listed in their operating certificates.

Circuit Judge De Witt S. Crow granted the injunction Monday at the request of the Farm to Market Truckers Assn. Inc., pending a decision in a case brought by the association against the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Officials estimated, however, that the injunction would apply to "thousands" of small truckers, mostly those who haul grain and livestock for short distances.

The farm to market truckers charged they are being denied rights due them under a "grandfather clause" in the Illinois Motor Carrier of Property Act.

The laws restrict the classes of goods that various classes of truckers may carry.

But the "grandfather clause" provided that no trucker could be barred from hauling any class of goods which he had been hauling at the time the truck act went into effect in 1939.

Attorneys for the farm truckers contended successfully before Crow that the 1933 motor carrier law recognized and accepted the grandfather clause in the earlier truck act.
